

Committee Charges McCarty

Files Report; Final Action Up to Senate

Finds Him 'Guilty' On Three of Six Principal Charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — A special senate investigating committee recommended today that Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy "should be censured" by the senate.

In a report prepared for the senate, the six-member committee said McCarthy, Wisconsin Republican, had treated the senate and one of its committees contemptuously. It said further that another count his alleged abuse of Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, "the senator from Wisconsin, Mr. McCarthy, should be censured."

As for three other broad charges, the committee said it feels they "do not, under all the evidence, justify a resolution of censure."

The senate will convene in special session Nov. 8 to consider the committee's recommendations. The senate itself will decide then whether to vote to censure or non-renew.

Adoption of a resolution of censure would amount simply to a public rebuke of McCarthy and would not, of itself, remove any of his senatorial privileges.

The special committee's report ran to a total of around 40,000 words. Much of the text was devoted to a summary of the evidence.

In a concluding summary of recommendations, the committee said: "For the reasons and on the facts found in this report, the select committee recommends: 1. That the charges in the category of 'incidents of contempt of the senate or a senatorial committee' be censured.

2. That the charges in the category of 'incidents involving abuse of office or executive orders' do not, under all the evidence, justify a resolution of censure. 3. That the charges in the category of 'incidents involving receipt or use of confidential or classified or other confidential information from sensitive files' do not, under all the evidence, justify a resolution of censure.

Advocate Rule Change Further, the committee recommended that the senate change its rules and ban one-man committee hearings except when the full committee, by majority vote, has directly authorized a single member to hold a hearing.

State, County Police Nab Robbery Suspect

Surround Home in G. Detour

Arthur Wakenight Seized for Store Robbery Downstate

Arthur Wakenight, 39, Grand Detour, who Sheriff John Stouffer said swore "he would never be captured alive," was captured Sunday afternoon at the home of his mother, Mrs. Francis Wakenight, Grand Detour, without the firing of a single shot.

Wakenight, who has served three previous prison sentences in a jail in Illinois, for burglary and larceny of a Jacksonville, Ill. furniture store. The burglary loot totaled $1,000.

White said the screen door was locked and he had to stand outside on the porch while he questioned Mrs. Wakenight, Wakenight's sister and brother-in-law and their children.

White said he had participated in an arrest of Wakenight a few days ago when he was arrested in a car near Polo for being an escapee, then said "No, he is not gone because you're Wakenight."

White said he had heard a report directed in Lee County officials that Judge Bracken ordered authorities wanted Wakenight in connection with the robbery and the report warned that he may be armed.

White reported there was a possibility that charges may be filed against Mrs. Wakenight for harboring a fugitive.

Typhoon Hits Japan; 1,500 Dead

Believe 67 Yanks Perish in Storm That Lashes Isle

TOKYO (AP)—An estimated 1,500 persons perished in a howling typhoon which struck north Japan Sunday night, including nearly 1,000 who died when a huge sea-going ferry capsized.

The bodies of 21 Americans have been recovered so far and perhaps 30 more are missing, officials announced.

Authorities said 500 bodies had been found and a national policy spokesman estimated that 900 bodies will be recovered from the capsized ferry.

Associated Press Correspondent Robert Upton, who flew to Hakodate, said the search for survivors has ended and rescue squads are lining up bodies of the dead on rough straw mats in an old seaman's center.

The great storm, generating winds up to 110 miles an hour, apparently had whirled harmlessly into the Japan Sea when suddenly it curled back and struck the northern island of Hokkaido almost without warning.

The result was Japan's greatest maritime disaster. Giant waves in Tsugaru Strait sank five big ferries, four of which carried no passengers, and hundreds of small craft.

Rockford Man Fined $15 for Hit-Run Crash

Olis Andrew Guiley, 22, Rockford, was fined $15 and costs by Justice of the Peace Lawrence E. Boos Saturday after pleading guilty to a charge of leaving the scene of an accident Friday night.

Guiley said he was traveling west on Palmyra Avenue and crossed into the wrong lane when the car ahead of him, driven by Ronald Zimmerman, Dixon, turned right on Fourth Avenue.

Zimmerman chased the Guiley car and reported to the authorities the license number and said the driver was a Negro.

Guiley signed a complaint against Guiley after he was traced through his license number.

Smedley pleaded guilty to a larceny indictment and requested probation. Judge Bracken ordered a hearing for Smedley after the probation officer makes his report concerning the request. Smedley admitted the burglary of the Wood and Rounds Service Station, Ashton, May 14.

Rev. Crawford Will Leave Oregon Pastorate Dec. 1

OREGON—(Special)—The Rev. Neil J. Crawford, pastor of Oregon Presbyterian church and well-known for his many speeches in the area, announced to his congregation Sunday that he has accepted a unanimous call from Westminster Presbyterian church, Washington, Ind., to become its minister Dec. 1.

The Rev. Crawford has served the Oregon church for four years, and coming here from Shimer College, Mt. Carroll, where he was director of admissions and public relations. He previously served churches in Buffalo, N. Y.; Cleveland, Ohio, and Toronto, Canada.

During his years in Oregon, membership in the church has increased from less than 300 to 400. He is a vice moderator of the Freeport Presbytery.

The Rev. Crawford has spoken before many church audiences, civic and social groups and for high school commencement in the area. He is a Lincoln student, and many of his speeches have had the Civil War President as their subject. His articles on Lincoln and on local history have appeared several times in The Evening Telegraph's "A Saturday Night Historical Notebook."

Take it from here. NOTES FROM A CITY EDITOR'S DAYBOOK—Announcement today of the construction of a new insurance building on Lincoln State drive will be greeted with approval by local citizens who are urging greater expansion of our city.

It represents the kind of expansion our city needs; it involves a long-range program of employment; it is a compliment to the city and the United States Fidelity and Guaranty Co. choose it as a site for a fine office.

Moreover, we believe, it is the involvement of local capital in this enterprise that should merit wide attention. The L. J. Welch Co. was the moving force behind the project.

Most assuredly, the loan agreement has many aspects for the local firm. It is also notable that U.S.F. & G. saw the advantages in locating here. It was a combination of two desires that culminated in the final agreement. The melding of these factors benefits all of us.

Glancing over some facts and figures provided by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, it can be seen that a new industry, or employment source, can mean to a community.

Scaling these figures to the size of the new U.S.F. & G. enterprise, it will mean that 183 more people will eventually become a part of our community. Fifty-five more households will eventually be established; 26 children will go to school here, and the personal income from those employed will approximate $250,000 a year.

According to Chamber figures, $100,000 should find their way into our local banks; 500 more passenger cars will be sold; and retail sales should benefit by $100,000 a year.

Granted that these figures are estimates and are applied generally, there can be no dispute over the broad advantages available to our community through encouragement of similar projects.

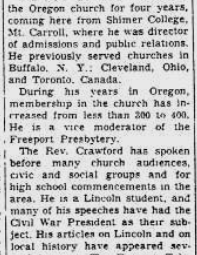

We congratulate L. J. Welch for the vigorousness with which he pursued this project for Dixon. We possess the sincere belief that he envisions that which is good for Dixon and is good for him.

It is on such a premise that our city will continue to grow and become a center of better homes and better living for our people.
